VOLCANO BLOWS UP IN PHILIPPINES

BRITISH FOOD SUPPLY TIED UP IN STRIKE

USE OF TROOPS TO OPERATE TRUCKS ANGERS LABOR

BY ED CREAMER
London, Jan. 13 (AP)—Britain's Labor government and employer and union representatives hurriedly set up new negotiating machinery tonight in an effort to end a mushrooming series of strikes threatening vital food distribution.

In a series of night meetings called by the Ministry of Labor both employers and union representatives agreed to confer early tomorrow to draft a charter for immediate reconsideration of workers' demands.

This development came as the government's use of troops to replace 21,000 striking truck drivers brought an angry reaction from labor union members throughout the country. There was some fear that sympathy walkouts in London and other British cities would grow to general strike proportions.

Get $20 A Week

The labor dispute began a week ago when the truck drivers walked out. They demanded a 44-hour week, overtime pay after eight hours daily and other concessions. Their present pay is approximately $20 a week.

In an effort to break a meat famine resulting from this stoppage, the government sent in troops today to get the trucks rolling.

Within a few minutes seven thousand workers in London's wholesale food markets—porters, shopmen and laborers—walked out in sympathy with the truck drivers and other sympathy strikes began in London and other parts of Britain.

On the insistence of employers the new machinery—providing for voluntary negotiations—will not begin to function until the men have returned to their jobs.

This machinery will supplement the central wages board which is prevented by statute from reopening consideration of the truck strikers' demands until Jan. 21. Dissatisfaction with the board's original decision brought on the truck strike.

Meat Famine Felt

Referring to the new agreement, the Ministry of Labor said that voluntary negotiations now "can take place free from statutory restrictions that necessarily govern proceedings of the wages board."

"This machinery," the ministry added, "should satisfy those people who want to control their own affairs."

Labor Minister George Isaacs joined in the talks with the employers and union representatives.

The government sent in troops to man the trucks as a meat famine, brought on by the strike, had affected some 10,000,000 persons in greater London.

Men of the Coldstream Guards, the "King's own troops," grunting and sweating over their unaccustomed tasks, heaved sides of beef and other carcasses into trucks.

Negro Youth Goes To Electric Chair For Second Time

New Iberia, La., Jan. 13 (AP)—It's "the same thing all over again" for Willie Francis. That means another trip to the electric chair.

The stuttering 18-year-old negro, probably the only man ever to walk away from the chair after the switch was thrown, has no hope of repeating that feat, accomplished last May 3 when a loose wire caused the chair to fail.

"I reckon my time has plumb done come," said Francis in his cell when Sheriff Gilbert Ozenne told him the United States supreme court had denied his plea to prevent another attempt to execute him.

In Baton Rouge, Governor Jimmie Davis' executive counsel, George Wallace, said the governor would issue a new death warrant fixing the date for electrocution when he receives the supreme court's mandate.

Francis' attorney, Bertrand DeBlanc of St. Martinville, announced he would file a motion for rehearing before the supreme court "immediately."

"It's the same thing again," Willie told Sheriff Ozenne. "I got to start worrying again, and boss, I thought I'd get out of it. But I guess a man's got to die some time. And I reckon my time has plumb done come."

Ticked A Little

Francis was convicted of murder in connection with the slaying of Andrew Thomas, a druggist of St. Martinville, La.

Last May 3 he was strapped into the state's portable electric chair in St. Martinville, seat of St. Martin parish. The switch was thrown. Willie wriggled and jumped around a bit. But when the switch was turned off he was as well as ever, except for nearly smothering under the tight black hood.

"It tickled a little but didn't hurt much," Willie said.

Defense attorneys claimed that sending Willie to the chair again would violate two provisions of the United States constitution that against placing a twice in jeopardy of life same crime, and that prohibiting cruel and unusual punishment.

Today the court decided, by the margin of 5 to 4, that Louisiana could try again to exact the capital penalty. The majority opinion held that the constitutional provisions were not meant to apply to mechanical accidents such as the chair's failure.

BRITAINS BACKS U.S. ATOM PLAN

MARSHALL IN HONOLULU — The new Secretary of State, George Marshall and his wife hold a press conference for newsmen, Jan. 11, on the lawn of their headquarters at Fort DeRussy, Waikiki, where they are enjoying a brief vacation before returning to Washington, D. Democrats Organize To Back Up Truman

BY JACK BELL

Washington, Jan. 13 (AP)—Senate Democratic leaders moved today to form a compact group of legislators to battle for President Truman's program and to sharpshoot at the drop of a hat, any Republican proposal they deem unwise.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) told a reporter his plans to announce shortly the appointment of a seven-member policy committee authorized under the congressional reorganization act. He declined to divulge the membership.

But there were reports that some of the veteran Democrats who have taken a leading part in past party councils will be passed up for younger men. The aim is to put more vigor in the new minority's counterattack against the G. O. P.

With this in mind Barkley was said to have under consideration the appointments of Senators Tydings of Maryland, Russell of Georgia, Hatch of New Mexico, Hill of Alabama, O'Mahony of Wyoming and Green of Rhode Island as other members of the group.

Only Green, representing New England in the geographical arrangement of the membership, is in the upper age brackets of the older Democrats who held most of the chairmanships of the Senate committees when that party was in control. The others, although they are mostly in their 50's, are young compared to some of the veterans.

If this lineup is followed, interested senators said it is likely that two more of the younger group, Senator Lucas of Illinois, the party whip, and Senator McMahon of Connecticut, secretary of the Democratic conference, would be asked to sit in on policy-making without having votes. The whip is in charge of lining up members for voting, while the conference is a gathering of all Democratic senators to discuss policy.

The new committee would be preponderantly middle-of-the-road in its political views, leaving the far fringes of "conservatives" and "progressives" without strong representation.

Barkley told a reporter that he expected the group, when it begins functioning, to become an active, working policy unit that will hold frequent meetings and be ready for instant battle with the Republicans.

Delegates believed the basic argument between Russia and the U. S. over priority for atomic energy control or general disarmament may be resolved when the security council meets Wednesday at 11 a.m. (EST).

Meanwhile, council members examined a voluminous file submitted by Great Britain in her dispute over the Corfu Channel blasts which killed 44 British sailors. The case is not expected to be taken up by the council before Friday.

Official British sources explained they did not want to disrupt the disarmament discussions to hear the case but believed it could be handled concurrently without any confusion.

Program To Avert Walkouts Studied By Detroit Council

Detroit, Jan. 13 (AP)—A labor-management citizens program, patterned after a plan tried in Toledo, is being studied to avert strikes and lockouts, received enthusiastic support at an informal session of Detroit's city council.

At its regular session Tuesday night, the council will cast a formal ballot on a motion by its president, George Edwards, that Mayor Edward Jeffries name an 18-man committee to prepare a detailed program for Detroit.

This committee would be made up of six representatives each from labor, management and the general public. Edwards said he had received Jeffries' "informal assurance of co-operation."

FOOD CLERKS GET $55

Los Angeles, Jan. 13 (AP)—Striking AFL food clerks voted yesterday to accept a proposal to end their 12 days strike and return to work tomorrow in several hundred markets of the Los Angeles metropolitan area at a top wage for clerks of $55 for a 40 hour week. The union has been demanding a top of $60, as against $40 previous to the strike.

POLAR RESCUE IS DESCRIBED BY SURVIVORS

SIX BACK ON SHIP AFTER 13 DAYS IN ICY WILDERNESS

BY ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Aboard U. S. Mt. Olympus, Jan. 13 (AP)—Calm self-discipline and the leadership of an iron-man captain were credited today with saving the lives of six navy men, rescued 13 days after a plane crash that killed three of their fellows in the icy wilderness of Antarctica.

Although this inquiry by the Senate commerce committee will embrace the question of safety precautions, House members urged separate investigation by that branch of Congress.

JUDICIAL RACES BRING OUT 112

Five Seek Job In 25th Circuit; No Opposition In Three Others

Lansing, Jan. 13 (P)—The dead-line for filing nominating petitions for the Feb. 17 non-partisan judicial primary for circuit court judge fell today with 112 candidates filed for 69 openings in 40 Michigan circuits.

In 24 circuits there is no contest, the department of state reported.

Senator G. Elwood Bonine, Vandale Republican, disclosed at the same time today that he was considering introducing in the legislature a constitutional amendment to eliminate judicial primaries where there is no contest.

Thirty candidates filed for the 18 Wayne county circuit judge posts.

The candidates included:

Eleventh Judicial—Herbert W. Runnels, Sault Ste. Marie.

Twelfth Judicial—Barney H. T. Burritt, Hancock.

Twenty-fifth Judicial—Ray Derham, Iron Mountain; Kenneth O. Doyle, Menominee; Glenn W. Jackson, Gladstone; George C. Quinell and Carroll C. Rushton, Marquette.

Thirty-second Judicial—Thomas J. Landers, Ironwood.

Recluse, 77, Dies. Sisters Starving; $167,000 In House

New York, Jan. 13 (P)—A 77-year-old recluse was found dead and his two elderly sisters were hospitalized today after police were called to their squallid Brooklyn flat in which they found bankbooks listing $67,000 in deposits and mortgages and whose value was at approximately $100,000.

The three, Charles Edwards and his unmarried sisters, Anna, 66, and Delia, 63, had lived in the four-room walkup flat for the last six months.

Police related this story.

This afternoon, Delia went to a neighbor's apartment to borrow some coffee. Asked how her brother was, she was quoted by the neighbor as replying casually: "Oh, I think he's dead."

When the woman left, the neighbor called a priest who found Edwards in bed unconscious, and the sister, Delia, walking dazedly about the flat. The priest telephoned police and a doctor who pronounced the man dead, apparently of natural causes.

The two women were removed to Kings County hospital where doctors diagnosed Anna Edward's ailment as malnutrition.

Eisenhower Is Best Bet For 1948, Says Solon From Oregon

Washington, Jan. 13 (P)—Senator Wayne Morse (R-Ore.) predicted tonight that President Truman will seek the 1948 presidential nomination and declared that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower "has the best chance of all the candidates on both sides" to occupy the White House two years hence.

"I think Mr. Truman is definitely in the ring," Morse said, in a radio forum broadcast.

"He is slugging right now, and he has the Republicans on the defensive."

In an attack on his own party, Morse declared:

"If the Republicans continue their anti-labor policy and their fiscal policies which will lead to fiscal isolation, they will lose both Congress and the White House in 1948—and they will give us the worst era of labor unrest in the history of our country."

Morse also assailed Republican tax-reduction proposals as "one of the most atrocious cases of public deception in the past quarter of a century."

"They should tell the people that now is the time to save and pay our debts or the dollar won't be worth a quarter of what it is today," he said.

"Let's Be Smart", Says Town Hall Lecturer

This guy, McGovern—Com. William M. McGovern, who talked last night at the William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium on the Escanaba Town Hall series—This guy, McGovern, then, talks like a man. Even more important, he talks like an intelligent man.

He talked about the problems confronting the state department in postwar Europe and Asia, about the foreign policy of the United States. And he boiled them down, radio sender, but no one in the expedition ever heard their distress signals. Efforts to operate a receiving set failed for lack of current.

They wisely made no attempt to leave the wreckage.

Metallic radar reflectors were laid on the snow in the hope of attracting searchers, but it was finally fire which attracted the attention of a plane.

"McCartys took a rubber life raft, filled it with food cartons, rope and pieces of a parachute, soaked the mass with gasoline and started a fire that sent up a pillar of black smoke at least 300 feet high.

The plane which found them directed them by means of dropped flags and dye-markings on an eight-mile hike to a "lead" in the ice, where another Mariner plane picked them up. LeBlanc was hauled in a makeshift sled. The others walked. The trip required 10 hours.

At the water's edge the ice was 30 feet high. It was not clear how they negotiated this final obstacle, but all were taken aboard safely.

The rescue plane was hoisted aboard the Pine Island and all except LeBlanc came down by "finger-lift" elevator to the deck.

"There wasn't the slightest doubt you'd get us," Captain Caldwell exclaimed as he shook hands with Capt. George Dufex, task commander.

Giant Plane Will Carry 400 Troops; On Public Display

San Diego, Calif., Jan. 13 (P)—The world's largest land-based aircraft, a 400-troop transport being built for the U. S. Army air forces, was on unofficial public display for the first time here today.

Wheeled from the experimental yard at the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp. plant, the six-engined giant was in view from Pacific Highway and from Lindbergh field.

Consolidated Vultee said the move was made to permit installation of main landing wheels and outer wing panels. No building in the plant was big enough.

The plane, known as the CX-99, is a transport version of Consolidated Vultee's B-36 bomber. It is double-decked inside to carry 400 troops, 336 litter patients or 100,000 pounds of cargo.

Fortress Drops Egg By Remote Control

Washington, Jan. 13 (P)—A Flying Fortress operated by remote control took off from Eglin Field, Fla., today, dropped a dummy bomb in the ocean off Virginia and landed here in a demonstration designed to show the feasibility of conducting an air raid without risking fliers' lives.

Plans called for the "drone" ship and an accompanying B-17, from which it was electronically controlled, to return to Florida without a stop. Bad weather on the return flight, however, forced the planes to land here. The return to Florida is scheduled tomorrow.

"They should tell the people that now is the time to save and pay our debts or the dollar won't be worth a quarter of what it is today," he said.

Steering Committee Appointed By House

Washington, Jan. 13 (P)—House Republicans today elected the following members of their steering committee, which shapes party policy.

Representatives Halleck of Indiana, Arends of Illinois, Woodruff of Michigan, Allen of Illinois, Brown of Ohio, Wadsworth of New York, Herter of Massachusetts, Harness of Indiana, Chenevert of Colorado, Rich of Pennsylvania, Hope of Kansas, Robinson of Kentucky, Jenkins of Ohio, Simpson of Pennsylvania, Wiglesworth of Massachusetts, Knutson of Minnesota, Michener of Michigan, Gearhart of California, and Ploeser of Missouri.

Bell Aircraft Sued For Four Billions In Portal Pay Case

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 13 (P)—David Diamond, Buffalo attorney who today filed a $4,000,000,000 portal to portal pay suit on behalf of employees of Bell Aircraft Corporation's Marietta, Ga., plant, said tonight the suit was in error—for $3,996,000,000.

"It should have been four million, not four billion," Diamond said.

Diamond said he had received a telephoned telegram tonight from Warren E. Hall for whom Diamond filed the suit. Diamond quoted Hall as saying:

"Correct complaint filed. Sum is million, not billion."

Diamond said he would amend the suit in U. S. district court tomorrow. He said the amended suit would ask $2,000,000 for alleged back pay and an equal amount in liquidated damages.

Troops Seize Jews After Haifa Police Station Is Blasted

BY CARTER L. DAVIDSON Jerusalem, Jan. 13 (P)—Ten

Jews were seized for questioning today as British troops combed the alleyways of Haifa for three men who blew up the Haifa police station last night, causing four deaths and injuries to approximately 150.

The search was terminated this afternoon after 872 persons had been screened. A communiqué said that residents of the half-Arab half-Jewish port city were "generally cooperative" during the search.

Arab officials, meanwhile, demanded that Britain take stern measures to wipe out violence in the Holy Land, and said that the present British attitude encouraged terrorism.

An Associated Press dispatch from Cairo quoted military sources there as saying that the British Third Division was being transferred to the troubled Holy Land.

Old-Time Fiddler Dies In DePere

De Pere—Death Friday ended the career of one of the last of the oldtime fiddlers, Isaac Duprey, 77, who was known throughout Wisconsin and Michigan for his ability with the violin.

Although the pioneer musician, who for many years was champion fiddler of Wisconsin and Michigan, hadn't played in public for a number of years, he had been playing for his friends in their homes up to the time of his death.

Duprey, who had won many prizes for his work at county fairs and service club contests some years ago, also played over Green Bay's old radio station, WHBY, in the 1920's with the Lumberjack Band he had organized.

He was born in West De Pere Oct. 22, 1869, the son of Levi Duprey. For 25 years he worked in sawmills at Menominee and Ingalls, Mich. Even then he didn't neglect his music, spending many evenings playing for his lumberjack companions.

In 1927, he returned to De Pere where he continued to play for various organizations, square dances and other social gatherings until he found it too much of a strain to play in public.

Gwinn May Have Corset Factory

Gwinn—At a committee meeting in the clubhouse Thursday evening, plans were completed for the drive to raise $4,000 which residents of Forsyth township will give to the H. W. Gossard company for locating its branch factory in Gwinn.

A house-to-house canvass planned by solicitors is expected to be completed with in a few days.

Residents from all parts of the township met in the Gwinn high school auditorium Wednesday evening and, after hearing details of the arrangement by which the H. W. Gossard company would locate a branch of its factory here, approved action of the

Police Chief Warns All Winter Drivers

"Blizzard Grips City," may be the headline sometime soon and it will also be time for motorists and traffic policemen to gripe, Chief of Police Mike Ettenhofer said today.

"Just as sure as snow flies and Old Man Winter can make streets slick and reduce visibility for several hours or days, a certain number of procrastinating drivers will skid and drive around blind—instead of making practical precautions now to compensate for the added hazards prevailing during and after a storm," Chief Ettenhofer declared. "Then everybody—motorists, pedestrians and policemen—gripes as blizzard grips city. Motorists grip because they have skid-wrecks and traffic tieups, whereas if those who must or choose to drive during severe snow and ice conditions had been equipped with tire chains much of the trouble would be prevented. Even as anti-skid chains are needed at times for snow and ice, windshield defroster, wipers and good lights are necessary for adequate visibility. Because at least two of these auto accessories are 'seasonal,' they're most frequently neglected and trouble results," the Chief said.

Chief Ettenhofer's warning is based on his own observations and a new safety report by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards. The committee reported an excessively high percentage of winter accidents occur on snow and ice, and recommended use of full chains on rear wheels where needed. They reported that synthetic tire treads do not provide as much traction on snow or ice as did natural rubber, although they now do wear as well and make equally good stops on dry pavement. The second major cause for the 24 to 53 per cent increase in accident rates during winter months in snow-belt states is reduced visibility, the researchers found.

Must Walk On Left, Police Chief Warns All Pedestrians

Police Chief Mike Ettenhofer stated yesterday that a number of complaints had been received from motorists regarding pedestrians walking on the wrong side of the road.

"It's a dangerous practice," Chief Ettenhofer said, "and an unlawful one."

He referred to Article 121, Section 34a of the Michigan Motor Vehicles Law which states that a pedestrian must walk, where practicable, on the left hand side of the road or highway, so as to be facing the stream of traffic.

"But don't forget," Chief Ettenhofer added. "That's only where no sidewalks are provided. If there are sidewalks—use them."

Hines Subsidiary Is Operating Mill At Bergland, Mich.

Recently a new chapter in the history of lumber manufacturing in the Wisconsin-Michigan area was unfolded with the start of sawing operations at the new sawmill of the White River Timber Co., located on the north arm of Lake Gogebic at Bergland.

The White River Timber Co. is a subsidiary of the Edward Hines Lumber Co., a name which has been identified with the harvesting of lumber in the north woods for over half a century.

While the new mill is small in comparison with the giant sawmills operated by the Edward Hines Lumber Co., in the old days the White River Timber Co. mill is modern in every respect.

In more ways than one, the mill is a model lumber manufacturing plant and the whole layout was designed and constructed under the direct supervision of Archibald L. McBride, manager of Hines Northern Division operations for many years.

Electric Power

The mill is electrically powered, which is an innovation for sawmills in the north, and the simple band saw and resaw have a capacity of 50,000 board feet a day. Some steam power is generated by the mill but only for operating secondary machinery such as the saw carriage and steam niggers.

At the present time the mill is busy sawing up some 3,000,000 feet of cork white pine logs which were decked at the mill awaiting start of sawing operations.

It will be some time before this lumber will be ready for shipment as the lumber will have to be air-dried. Plans for the addition of dry kilns and planing mill are in readiness, and these units will be

The mill and lumber cutting operations will employ 100 to 125 men the year around, and the White River Timber Co. owns and controls timberlands adjacent to the mill which insure a long life. About 65 per cent of this timber is hardwoods such as maple, birch and elm, and distributed through the forest are softwood, such as white pine and hemlock.

Value of a Harbor

THE importance of a good harbor to a waterfront city is considerable, not only for stimulating trade but in keeping costs of many commodities down to the lowest possible level.

The situation at Manistique is a good illustration of the importance of water transportation. The lowering of the lake level in recent years has caused the grounding of several lake freighters in the Manistique harbor, with the result that shipping companies are hesitant to send their expensive carriers into that port.

Those companies that will do so are asking a premium rate of 30 cents to 40 cents a ton for transporting coal to Manistique. Additional expense of about 30 cents a ton is necessitated by the rehandling of coal that is dumped in inadvantageous positions on the dock because freighters cannot maneuver to the proper unloading points.

All of this additional cost must of course, be passed on to the coal consumers. It means further that Manistique industries using coal for power, or electricity produced from coal, are at a disadvantage on the competitive market for their products.

Fortunately for Manistique, the situation at that harbor is correctable and the U. S. Army Engineers have promised "sympathetic consideration" of Manistique's plea for harbor improvement. This can be taken to mean that the Army Engineers recognize the unfavorable harbor situation at Manistique and will recommend a deepening of the harbor and the harbor entrance so that carriers of at least 18 or 19 foot draft can safely enter the port of Manistique. The situation at Manistique is complicated by the fact that the lake bottom there is virtually solid rock.

Constitutional Convention

SENATOR Haskell L. N. Nichols of Jackson has introduced a bill providing for a statewide referendum on a proposal to hold constitutional convention to revise the state's basic law.

If Senator Nichols' measure is adopted, the proposal would be put to a vote of the people at the forthcoming spring election. At this election, three delegates would be elected from each congressional district to attend a constitutional convention. Such a convention has not been held since 1909, despite the fact that the constitution provided that one be held in 1926 and every 16 years thereafter.

Michigan's constitution needs overhauling. Conditions have changed in the state since 1909, and the state constitution has been overloaded with a series of amendments, some of them good and some of them bad.

The 15-mill tax limitation amendment, for instance, seemed to be a good move during the depression when farmers and others were losing their property because of high taxes. But because of this amendment, many rural communities, desiring to improve the educational facilities for their children, are prevented from raising their tax millage because of a minority that is not interested in schools or the children's needs.

The people of Michigan, at the November election, adopted an amendment proposal for the diversion of one cent of the three cent sales tax to the schools, municipalities and other units of local government. How this is going to work out remains to be seen. Those who advocated adoption of the amendment, with the knowledge that tinkering with the constitution in this manner has its objectionable features, argued before the election that it might hasten the day of constitutional revision. The holding of a constitutional convention is long overdue in Michigan.

Factories for Villages

CITIZENS of Forsyth township in Marquette county have decided to raise $4,000 in a house-to-house canvass for financing an industrial development program at Gwinn and vicinity.

Gwinn has a good prospect already. The H. W. Gossard company, which has been operating for many years at Ishpeming, is considering the establishing of a branch plant at the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company's model town, provided a building can be remodeled for occupancy.

The interest being shown in industrial opportunities by small communities in the Upper Peninsula is an encouraging sign. There is no reason why they cannot emulate the promotion work being done by Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Marquette and other cities in this field. Incidentally, it would be well if chambers of commerce of these cities, who have acquired the know-how in the matter of attracting new industries, would pass their knowledge along to the villages and hamlets.

Such a cooperative attitude would return good dividends, particularly if a city can assist a village in its retail shopping area in improving its economic status. More jobs in the territory naturally would result in more business at the retail center.

Such an opportunity for industrial development is offered Escanaba, Menominee and Iron Mountain in the village of Hermansville. Residents of Hermansville do some shopping in the three cities, and the Escanaba Daily Press, Menominee Herald-Leader and Iron Mountain News all have subscribers there.

Since 1943, the sawmill, planing mill, flooring factory and dry kilns of the Wisconsin Land & Lumber company at Hermansville have been idle. Most of the machinery has been removed from the plants, but the buildings are in excellent condition. There is the probability that furniture manufacturers or other industrial concerns could use all or part of the facilities to advantage.

Prices and Strikes

CONGRESS will be giving serious study soon to a batch of legislation that has been drafted in the hopes of averting strikes and other labor disputes in industry.

But whatever the lawmakers do probably will not be as much a deterrent to strikes as the silent workings of natural economic laws. Within the past several days, housewives and other family providers have been cheered by the news that prices of butter, meat and other food items are coming down. The downward movement also has hit furs and other luxuries.

When prices go down, the workers' real wage advance. Consumers are able to buy more for their money, and consequently the cost of living pinch eases. The consuming-working public becomes better satisfied with its lot, and there is less occasion for strikes, unless dictatorial ruthless union leaders, like John L. Lewis, choose to take such drastic action in order to display their authority or give the semblance of doing something to earn their fat salaries.

Lower prices mean that people can hardly find any opportunity to learn a trade or useful work. Therefore, they drift into the black market, crime and immorality. The insane and those in mental hospitals, an ever increasing number, cannot be taken care of. Among the young veterans, who often started soldiering at the age of 16, a lands-knecht nihilism runs so strong that it does ill for the chances of peaceful life, even if all other Germans were bent on peace and cooperation.

"Most distressing is the fact that those who fought against Nazism do not get any aid unless they happen to have relatives or close friends in this country. There are the surviving Pacifists. Surely our American peace organization ought to help them. Yet painfully little is being done for them.

"There are political underground survivors who have reached the end of their endurance. One I know of, a woman, was in prison and in hiding for years. Her husband was executed by the Nazis. She lost her home and all her belongings in one of the bombing raids.

"Why is it that so many of our good people blindly trust in blue-prints for tomorrow instead of following the old truth that the sparks of hope and a better life is burning in individual human hearts and has to be kept alive there today? Must it be 'sloppy sentimentalism' to put human beings before coal, chemistry and the balance of power?"

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—As the result of a column written shortly before Christmas urging that food packages be sent to Europe through the organization known as CARE many letters have been received. They are almost all further evidence of the deep desire of Americans to help hungry Europe.

Several of the writers raise the question of aid to Germans in Germany. Perhaps the most remarkable of these letters comes from a German-Jewish refugee who fled the Hitler terror.

"While you did not stress the situation in Germany," the writer says, "I know that you are not one of those who tacitly or consciously exclude the German people from one world and the brotherhood of man. Unfortunately there are still so many who believe that Germans must get along with 1550 calories (per day) until that distant day when the wounds of all other countries have been healed."

PICTURE IN GERMANY

"Even the new merger of the American and British zones is chiefly based on those 1550 calories; and that in spite of all data medical science has gathered in the starvation experiments with conscientious objectors and (in spite of) official medical reports. Allied reports from Germany state that, unless rations are increased during this year, the damage will be irreparable. How can it be brought home to our people that we have been wasting our chance for a generation of better Germans ever since the occupation started?"

"Here are a few choice items from the actual picture. In Berlin, the lowest card—Card V-9—entitles the holder to 1250 calories. It is called the Friedhofskarte (cemetery card). Meals are figured out on Briefwaagen-Mahlzeiten, which are little scales for weighing letters.

"From Hanover: Young people can hardly find any opportunity to learn a trade or useful work. Therefore, they drift into the black market, crime and immorality. The insane and those in mental hospitals, an ever increasing number, cannot be taken care of. Among the young veterans, who often started soldiering at the age of 16, a lands-knecht nihilism runs so strong that it does ill for the chances of peaceful life, even if all other Germans were bent on peace and cooperation.

Must it be 'sloppy sentimentalism' to put human beings before coal, chemistry and the balance of power?"

REVENGE IS COSTLY

The deep sense of obligation for one's fellow man that runs through this letter cannot be controverted by talk of "pampering" Germany. Revenge is a very, very costly emotion. Failure to live up to our minimum obligation in Germany is equivalent to revenge.

The people of Michigan voted civil service for state employees because they wanted the most efficient governmental service that they could get, divorced entirely from party patronage. The system is not perfect, but it is decidedly better than the spoils systems in which state jobs are peddled upon the basis of "You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours."

It is unlikely that the voters of Michigan will go along on any proposal that will allow state government back to the mercies of the spoils system.

State Civil Service

THE inevitable attack on the Michigan civil service system by professional politicians interested in a return to the spoils system is underway.

The politicians, of course, want the juicy state jobs to peddle in the way of party patronage but are currently impeded by the civil service law written into the state constitution.

Senator Bonine has offered a constitutional amendment proposal that would lift the protection of civil service from positions with salaries of more than $3,000 a year. This proposal would serve only to destroy any chance of career employees gaining promotions as incentive for their work and thus eventually accomplish a wreckage of the entire civil service system.

WHALE STEW (Chicago Daily News)

The British are eating whale meat and finding it palatable. They compare it to bloaters, which is hardly a recommendation to the American palate, which does not go for tanned herring.

It may appear that the British, despite their reputation, are less conservative than we. Whaler never caught on here in the worst of the meat shortage.

We will eat cow, deer or buffalo, but not horse, sheep, but not goat; turtle, but not alligator; eel, but not snake; clam, but not snail; turkey, but not ostrich; opossum, but not cat; squirrel, but not weasel.

It is hard to find the thread of consistency in these preferences. Clearly we tend to spare the animals we have domesticated for other purposes. That explanation has to assume that the household cat is superior to a mousetrap, and that we forego coyote because it looks like a dog.

Another theory is that the animal's own diet influences our attitude. That notion must have been advanced by somebody who never raised hogs or checkens.

We'd better not think about it too much or we'll all turn vegetarian.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

MORE THAN POLIO — In the drive to raise funds to fight infantile paralysis, opening tomorrow in Delta county and throughout the nation, there is more involved — at least in this community — than the aiding of infantile paralysis victims. You will find that one-half of the contributions from this county will go to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"Most distressing is the fact that those who fought against Nazism do not get any aid unless they happen to have relatives or close friends in this country. There are the surviving Pacifists. Surely our American peace organization ought to help them. Yet painfully little is being done for them.

"There are political underground survivors who have reached the end of their endurance. One I know of, a woman, was in prison and in hiding for years. Her husband was executed by the Nazis. She lost her home and all her belongings in one of the bombing raids.

"Why is it that so many of our good people blindly trust in blue-prints for tomorrow instead of following the old truth that the sparks of hope and a better life is burning in individual human hearts and has to be kept alive there today? Must it be 'sloppy sentimentalism' to put human beings before coal, chemistry and the balance of power?"

"REVENGE IS COSTLY" — The deep sense of obligation for one's fellow man that runs through this letter cannot be controverted by talk of "pampering" Germany. Revenge is a very, very costly emotion. Failure to live up to our minimum obligation in Germany is equivalent to revenge.

Besides the humanitarian aspect of the German problem, there is the menace of a generation growing up in near-starvation and chaos. The reasons for the rise of Nazism were many and complex, going far back into the German past. But contributing factors certainly were the hunger of 1919-1920 and the ruin and disorder precipitated by the runaway inflation a little later.

In the way being prepared for another generation of gangsters? That is the question we should solemnly ask ourselves. Science, as the letter writer points out, has clearly shown the psychopathology produced by hunger.

A starlet, during the "commercial" on a soap program, tells of "lothering" cold weather on it. Another tells us of her new "brond" of "pot-a-cake" face powder. Still another uses the agonized pronunciation "plastics" for the simple word plastics. The male star of a radio series informs us that, "The auction (action) in next week's episode will center around a jude ranch (dude ranch)!"

Such pronunciation are supposed to be cultured. But they are the exact opposite; and whoever is sponsoring the buffooneries as correct speech is taking money under false pretenses.

Many (but by no means all) New Englanders use the broad A natively in the so-called "ask" words—ask, after, chance, haint, laugh, etc. Elsewhere in the country, all such words are pronounced with the historically correct flat "a" as in "man."

But such words as lather, splash, brand, pat-a-cake, plastics, action, ranch are never included in the "ask" group in New England or anywhere else, nor does any dictionary list such words with a broad or half-broad A.

Moreover, that the broad A in the "ask" words themselves is more cultured or correct than the flat "a" is a superstition and nothing more, and is also a libel on cultured and educated people all over the nation who never use the broad A in any of the words.

For confirmation of everything that I have pointed out in this article, I strongly urge radio and motion picture people, as well as all speech teachers and students, to read paragraph 83, page xl, Webster's New International Dictionary Second Edition.

IMMEDIATE PROBLEM — But

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Despite our improved relations with Russia, something very peculiar is going on regarding the key island of Spitzbergen up near the Arctic Circle. The Russians have been exerting all sorts of pressure on Norway to militarize this strategic island, thus permitting them to use it as a military base.

There is only one objective for a base on Spitzbergen — offensive action against the United States. From it rocket bombs could probably hit New York.

The United States happened to learn of the Russian-N

ELECT GREENE ROAD CHAIRMAN

Garden Man Will Head
Delta County Road
Commission

Harry Greene of Garden township, former member of the county board of supervisors, was elected chairman of the Delta county road commission for the ensuing year at the annual organization meeting held in commission offices in county highway garage at Wells.

Greene succeeds August Larson of Rock who retired at the expiration of his term of office Dec. 31. Larson had served on the commission for more than 12 years. Greene was appointed a member of the road commission at its October meeting, and immediately resigned as supervisor of Garden township.

Other members of the road commission are Henry Wylie, Escanaba high school teacher, appointed to fill a vacancy created when Marcus McNabb of Escanaba was removed from the commission by the county board; and Hilding Norstrom of Gladstone, the only hold-over member of "old" commission.

Re-employ Engineers

The present superintendent-engineer of the commission, J. T. Sharpsteen, and his assistant, Clarence Rose, were reemployed for the ensuing year.

Other business before the commission included:

Approved payment of bills for the month of December.

Approved the purchase of a new 200-horsepower truck equipped with two snow plows and one wing plow from the Peninsula Four-Wheel Drive company at a cost of $15,387.34.

Decided that regular meetings of the commission hereafter will be held on the second and fourth Saturdays of each month, starting at 9 a.m., Central Standard Time. This change will permit the attendance of Commissioner Wylie without conflicting with his teaching schedule.

Consider Grievances

Ordered that a monthly mimeographed publication of the commission minutes, payroll data, and other pertinent information for the public.

Instructed the engineer to investigate the Michigan Municipal Retirement System or pension plan and report to the next meeting of the commission. A similar system is now operating for the benefit of employees of the city of Escanaba.

Will further consider recommendations and requests of a grievance committee representing the union employees of the road commission. The grievance committee meeting with the commission was composed of Leroy Pettit, Gene Thorburn and Victor Goodreau.

Military DC-4s (the Army C-54 and the Navy RSD) made 40,000 Pacific and 30,500 Atlantic crossings in flying more than 300,000,000 flight miles during global operations in World War II.

2 ARE KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Granddaughter Of Rapid River Woman Is Victim

Severely burned Thursday in an explosion and fire which routed more than 20 persons from a former 26-room mansion in Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Antcliff, formerly of Marquette, died within six hours of each other at Mt. Sinai hospital, Cleveland, on Friday. Mrs. Antcliff, the former Florence Youn of Marquette, was a granddaughter of Mrs. Wilma Uebrik of Rapid River.

Funeral services for the couple will be held at the Swanson funeral home in Marquette 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Antcliff was well known in Rapid River, having visited her grandmother there several times in recent years.

The blast occurred when Antcliff, 23, lit his pipe in the couple's second-floor room of the three story frame building. William D. Guion, Cleveland building commissioner, said gas from an abandoned line in the basement was responsible for the blast.

Lived in Cleveland 7 Months

Mr. and Mrs. Antcliff, who were married last August, had resided seven months in Cleveland, where Mr. Antcliff was employed as a shipping clerk.

Mrs. Antcliff, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Youn, Cherry

Creek, was born in Marquette April 8, 1921. In addition to her parents, she leaves three sisters, Mrs. Fred Perry, of Sturgeon Bay, Wis.; Mrs. Hugo Portoluri, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Miss Rosmarie Youn, at home, and two brothers, James and Theodore Youn, Marquette.

Mr. Antcliff, a veteran of World War II, was born in Ontonagon March 22, 1920. A graduate of Graveraut high school, he enlisted in the Army Sept. 6, 1940, and received his discharge Dec. 3, 1945. He had been employed in Cleveland since last June. He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Antcliff, Cherry Creek; two sisters, Mrs. Vincent Murphy, Duluth, and Mrs. Margaret McDugal, Portland, Ore., and six brothers, Harold, of New York City; Ralph, of Sacramento, Calif.; Amos, of Duluth; Andrew and Donald, of Marquette, and Orville, of Bremerton, Wash.

The funds are to be repaid, without interest, when construction is begun.

Northern Michigan. — Spalding township school district, new combined grade and high school building at Powers, Menominee county, to include classrooms, library-study hall, laboratory, home economics, shop, offices, kitchen facilities, gymnasium-auditorium and appurtenant facilities, estimated cost $275,000 federal advance $5,000.

(Voters of Spalding township in a special election on Nov. 4 authorized the board of education to lay a levy of 20 mills for five years to provide funds for the new Powers-Spalding high and grade school. The building will be located on the east side of US-41 about half way between the two communities.)

It was slightly less safe to be an U. S. Army officer than to be in the ranks in World War II. Officers accounted for 13 per cent of battle deaths, a little higher than their proportionate strength of 10 per cent.

Others installed were: First vice president Kryn Bloom; second vice president, Fred Johnson; secretary, Clarence Zerbel; directors, James Bell, Wm. J. Duchaine, John Anthony, Conrad Finstrom, Jack LaMotte, John Mitchell and Walter Pearson.

Clothes Hangers Serve Togs Well

BY ALICIA HART
Humble but important caretakers of your personal appearance are guess what? Clothes hangers, say the dry-cleaning people, who warn you not to pooh-pooh the function of these closet aids, and insist that you need different kinds for good wardrobe service.

If suits and coats of down-pulling winter weight are to be kept in shape, they must have wide-shouldered hangers of sturdy strength, say our experts. Take, next, slacks or trousers hung over the cross bar of a hanger. If you want to avert unwanted creases, you'll see that the bar of the hanger has the thickness of a lead pencil.

If skirts are to hang out their wrinkles—they can, you know—suspend them by the waistband from a pinch hanger.

Padded hangers are the best caretakers for dresses. But the hanger should be wide enough to extend across the shoulders of both sleeves of your dress. Remember when hanging dresses that shoulder pads should be fully adjusted or the good-fitting line of your dress can be thrown out of kilter while it swings in your closet.

CIRCUIT COURT HISTORY TOLD

Atty. Glenn Jackson Of Gladstone Is Rotary Club Speaker

The 25th judicial district comprising the counties of Delta, Menominee, Marquette, Iron and Dickinson, this year will hold the first contested election in the 65 years of its history. It was revealed yesterday to the Escanaba Rotary club in a talk presented by Atty. Glenn Jackson of Gladstone.

At the time the circuit was established in 1881 it included only Delta, Menominee and Marquette counties, the first election was held on the first Monday of April, 1882, and Claudius B. Grant of Marquette was elected judge.

"It is noteworthy that in 65 years, except for a few months that Judge Steens presided temporarily, only four men have presided over this court, with an average tenure of about 16 years," Atty. Jackson said. "It is further noteworthy that four of the five judges who have occupied this bench have ascended to the supreme court of Michigan and served there with distinction."

To Supreme Bench

Following Judge Grant, who served until 1909 when he was appointed to the supreme court, there were the following judges in the 25th district:

Judge Joseph H. Steere, appointed to fill the vacancy created when Judge Grant became a member of the supreme court, and served until 1890, when Judge John W. Stone of Houghton was elected. He lived in Marquette, served until 1910, and then was appointed to the supreme court.

In April, 1910, Richard C. Flanagan was appointed to fill Judge Stone's vacancy, and then himself was appointed to the supreme court in 1927. Then in October of that year Judge Frank A. Bell of Negaunee, who will retire at the end of this year, was appointed and then elected to succeed himself as did the others before him.

This First Contest

Although the equal in ability of his predecessors, Judge Bell did not seek the supreme court post, and preferred to "live at home near his family," Atty. Jackson commented.

"It is noteworthy that in the entire history of this circuit there has never been a contested election," Atty. Jackson said.

"To many people it might appear that this election is due to some new law. Judge Bell told me recently that some people have asked him if he had been elected. There has been an election every few years, but the incumbents have been of such high caliber that no one has contested their election."

(There are five candidates for the nomination for the judgeship in the Feb. 17 primary. The two nominees will have their names on a non-partisan ballot in the regular spring election.)

Largest in U. P.

"The 25th judicial circuit is a large circuit in area and population. Although not square, it reaches about one hundred twenty miles east and west and one hundred twenty miles north and south. It comprises five fairly populous counties, with a total population of 155,038 in 1940," Atty. Jackson said.

"It is interesting to compare this circuit with some of the other circuits:

"The 11th judicial circuit, which comprises Chippewa, Luce, Alger and Schoolcraft counties, had a population in 1940 of 54,921.

"The 12th judicial circuit, which comprises Houghton, Keweenaw and Baraga, in 1940 had a population of 55,991.

"The 32nd judicial circuit, which comprises Gogebic and Ontonagon, had a population in

Michigan Wardens To Check Badger State Fishermen

Menominee, Mich.—Michigan conservation wardens will check on operations of Wisconsin fishermen in Green Bay waters, where, Michigan commercial fishermen charge, Wisconsin boats have been taking five times the volume of fish caught by Michigan fishermen.

Fred Westerman, Lansing, head of the department's fish division told fishermen at a meeting here that Michigan will use one of four new fisheries patrol boats to observe Wisconsin fishermen. The delivery of the new boats is expected soon.

The Michigan commercial fishermen have been complaining bitterly that Wisconsin fishermen can legally use gill nets with two and three-eighths inch mesh while Michigan law sets a two and one-half inch minimum. The Wisconsin nets, they claim, catch fish that go right through the mesh used by Michigan boats.

Westerman told the fishermen that Wisconsin nets are illegal in Michigan waters and that the state wardens will check them closely.

Westerman told Menominee fishermen that he would recommend to the legislature that it permit open water fishing for smelt. Only commercial ice fishing for smelt is now legal in Michigan.

He said that he regretted the opposition of Menominee fishermen to the proposed treaty with Canada for uniform fishing regulations. Only United States members of the proposed joint commission would regulate Lake Michigan fishing, he said, because it is not an international lake.

The 11th judicial circuit, which comprises Chippewa, Luce, Alger and Schoolcraft counties, had a population in 1940 of 54,921.

"The 12th judicial circuit, which comprises Houghton, Keweenaw and Baraga, in 1940 had a population of 55,991.

"The 32nd judicial circuit, which comprises Gogebic and Ontonagon, had a population in 1940 of 43,153.

"From this it will be seen that the population in 1940, of the 25th judicial circuit, slightly exceeded that of the other three circuits wholly within the Upper Peninsula," he added.

SHOP SOLD BY SMITH YARDS

Milwaukee Firm To Open New Foundry In Sturgeon Bay

Sturgeon Bay, Wis.—Purchase of a substantial part of the Leathem D. Smith Shipbuilding company properties by the General Foundries of Milwaukee was completed here Friday.

The building involved is known as the Navy Plate shop, one of the larger buildings in the yards. It was the original machine shop built in 1938, and to which an addition was made during the height of shipbuilding operations.

Fred W. Busche, president of the Milwaukee firm, said that the shop will be known as the company's No. 2 plant, the other being in Milwaukee. The firm has been turning out gray iron foundry work, and has been doing a considerable amount of sub-contract jobs.

Details remain to be worked out, and no announcement was made in regard to employment or when work is expected to begin.

It was indicated, however, that about 100 men would be employed at the start and that there were possibilities for considerable expansion.

Officials of the Sturgeon Bay Development corporation, organized several months ago to promote industry here, helped to negotiate the sale.

The sale was the first to be made by the Smith yards, which have been virtually idle since the end of the war stopped government shipbuilding work. Decision to dispose of the property was made after the death of the owner, Leathem D. Smith, in a yachting accident last June 23.

BETTY EBBESON NEW WSG HEAD

1947 Officers Picked
Missionary Letters
Are Read

Munising—Miss Betty Ebbeson was elected president of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist church at the first meeting of 1947 held at the home of Miss Ann Lundquist, Thursday evening.

Other officers elected were: Vice president: Miss Frieda Schwartz, secretary: Mrs. Alma Howlett, treasurer: Mrs. Angie Deels; spiritual life: Mae Carlson, mission cult: Ann Lundquist; C. S. R. and L. C. A. Miss Evelyn Ebbeson; recreation and supply chairman: Agnes Mattson, publicity, Ted Fraser.

An interesting highlight of the evening was the reading of a letter from Miss Mildred Anne Paine, now in Japan, arriving there Oct. 15, 1946, who visited in Munising the past summer. She wrote as follows:

"Prices here are fantastic. Money value is all askew. In yen we pay 100 times pre-war prices for the same bit of paste or little mound of tangerines, yet the dollar is but four times the pre-war exchange value. I shall spend part of my time at Yokosuka, where we are converting an old dance hall into a Christian Community Center. The large building was given by our Navy to Dr. Bott, for church World Service. We want every foot of space to be teaming with service and happy living before spring. Already the young people have had several meetings within the Center. They want a library and we expect to open one for children early in January."

A letter from Miss Mabel Howlin, Methodist Missionary who arrived in China September, 1946, was also read. She wrote:

"We are sorry that the constructive things going on here do not get into American papers as much as the other kind. By the end of the year, I can proceed to Chungking, and shall be in charge of the religious education work of the Methodist churches of the city. We held a Thanksgiving Day service in Trinity Episcopal Cathedral. Bishop Ward was the Preacher. We were humbly thankful that the church was heated, the only building I've seen so far with heat in it, in this temperature of 56 degrees. Coal is $200 U. S. Currency, per ton, so fire is very limited."

Miss Frieda Schwartz gave a report on the children's anklets and stockings donated by members of the Wesleyan guild instead of exchanging gifts at their Christmas party. She said the items had been sent to the Children's Home at Redford.

After the meeting a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, the Misses Ann Lundquist and Frieda Schwartz.

Insulation Is Developed From Hard Plastic Foam

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(P) Science Reporter

Midland, Mich.—A close approach to a material that is mainly nothing except air has been attained by the Dow Chemical company in a new form of insulation.

This stuff is snow-white, nearly as hard as board, but is 97 percent air.

The air is packaged in little cells whose walls are thin and tough polystyrene, a plastic related to one of the two main compounds that form America's wartime synthetic rubber.

The rubber ingredient is styrene. The insulator is polystyrene, which is the same material but with bigger molecules, and the new product is styrofoam. It is made by expanding polystyrene forty times.

Fifteen pounds of this white foam would float a piano.

It was first produced in the war for buoyancy and lifesaving equipment, including life rafts. But peacetime improvements make it more useful for temperature insulation, particularly refrigerators.

This hard foam is also adapted to ornaments like carvings, Christmas tree decorations and advertising signs. It can be cut either by knives, or saws, by hand, and by machine tools. It has strength enough to hold nails. And it can be painted any color.

For refrigeration it has the advantage of not absorbing any moisture and remaining free from smells, either its own, or those that can be picked up from food.

This material bonds to brick, metal, wood and concrete.

This is the best insulation for buildings, for houses, refrigerators and cars and trucks and planes.

The foam also makes it feasible to construct nonsinkable metal rowboats by placing the white stuff under seats or in bow and stern compartments. When such a boat is filled with water it will not only remain afloat but support several persons in addition to the boat.

The foam is said to be the lightest of all known insulation materials in solid form. Being synthetic product, it is resistant to molds and to rot.

COURT SESSION
TO BE BRIEFCriminal Cases Were Disposed Of In Short Order

Prospects that the current term of Schoolcraft county circuit court would be a bit more on the sensational order than those of the recent past sessions, failed to materialize after the calling of the calendar Monday afternoon.

Three criminal cases were continued and the defendants in the remaining two entered guilty pleas. This did away with the necessity of the services of a jury and those who had been called to appear for duty Tuesday morning were excused.

In the case of the People vs. Richard Lehman, originally arraigned on Jan. 18, 1946 on a charge of desertion, the case was passed on testimony that he was satisfactorily providing for the care of his family.

The People vs. Ernest LaLonde arraigned on June 28, 1946, on a larceny charge, was continued.

Henry Dolgard, a youth from the Garden vicinity, pleaded guilty to carrying a pistol concealed on his person. His arrest on this charge followed an arrest on a minor charge late last fall.

Police, making a routine search of the young man, found the pistol. Judge Runnels, it is expected, will dispose of the case Tuesday.

The case against Henry Polhamus of Germfask, charged with selling a preparation known as "Anti-Buck" said to contain a bait forming drug, was continued to the April term of court.

Lloyd Carey, of Gulliver, charged with statutory rape involving a four year old child, was permitted to plead guilty to a charge of taking indecent liberties. Final disposition of this case has not yet been announced. The defendant was represented by George W. Wood.

The civil case, Lena Anthony vs. Elmer Anderson, in which the plaintiff alleged false arrest, was settled out of court.

The six remaining cases on the calendar, all non-jury cases, are in chancery court.

Swift's Play Marinette Northern Improvements Here Tonight

Jug Girard In Visiting Lineup

Locals Lick Marquette Team Here Sunday, 85 To 51

Tom Swift's cagers, who routed the Marquette K-C's here Sunday, 85-51, will lay their undefeated record in the Northern Lakes basketball league on the line here tonight against the snappy Northern Improvements of Marinette. The game will be played at the junior high school gymnasium at 8:30 o'clock, and will be preceded by a city league game between Oberg's and Mike's Bar at seven o'clock.

The Marinette team is paced by Jug Girard, whirling dervish of football and basketball fame at Marinette high school and later at the University of Wisconsin. Other former Marinette stars playing with the Northern Improvements are Kent and Olson.

The Swift's burst out on a scoring binge Sunday that may carry through tonight. In packing 85 points through the hoop Sunday night, the Escanaba-Bark River team was red hot and probably could have reached the century mark if they were after a scoring record. The reserves saw plenty of action against Marquette, however.

Tonight's game may shape up as a duel between Jug and Bob Ranguette, the Escanaba wizard who scorched the netting with 36 points Sunday.

Official for tonight's game will be Dick Schram.

Sunday's game was just a case of the Swift's being ultra-hot, outscoring the visitors in every frame. In the preliminary game Nahma swamped Oberg's, 58 to 25.

Purdue Upset, 62-46, By Lowly Hoosiers

Bloomington, Ind., Jan. 13 (AP)—Indiana university's basketball team, beaten in five of its first nine games, surprised Purdue's heavily-favored Boilermakers tonight, 62 to 46. It was the first Western Conference game for Purdue and Indiana's second triumph in three Big Nine starts.

Indiana's cagers controlled both back boards and repeatedly outran the Boilermakers in dashes down the floor. Only Saturday night Purdue had out-sped a Notre Dame team that beat Indiana by 10 points.

A total of 167 shots were taken at the hoop in tonight's affair, with neither team hitting consistently. Guard Lou Watson and Forward Ralph Hamilton topped the Hoosier scorers with 16 and 15 points, respectively. Forward Paul Hoffman paced Purdue with 16.

A crowd of 9,330 saw Indiana win first possession of a new I.U.-Purdue basketball trophy, the fire bell.

Minnesota Downed, 77 to 64, By Iowa

Locals Lick Marquette Team Here Sunday, 85 To 51

Tom Swift's cagers, who routed the Marquette K-C's here Sunday, 85-51, will lay their undefeated record in the Northern Lakes basketball league on the line here tonight against the snappy Northern Improvements of Marinette. The game will be played at the junior high school gymnasium at 8:30 o'clock, and will be preceded by a city league game between Oberg's and Mike's Bar at seven o'clock.

The Marinette team is paced by Jug Girard, whirling dervish of football and basketball fame at Marinette high school and later at the University of Wisconsin. Other former Marinette stars playing with the Northern Improvements are Kent and Olson.
